«There's no place like home» (1990, dimensions variables), peint en lettres noires monumentales, une enseigne lumineuse : un cheval primitif faisant référence à un des plus anciens dessins connus de la culture amérindienne, une voix sur un CD qui énonce des lieux, fleuves ou villes, noms issus de cette même culture. Ensemble critique de la domination économique blanche et de la spoliation des premiers habitants du territoire américain.

JOHN KNIGHT * FEDERAL STYLE * SEPTEMBER 9 - SEPTEMBER 30, 1989

Beginning September 9 and continuing through September 30, the Richard Kuhlenschmidt Gallery is pleased to present Federal Style, an exhibition of work by American artist John Knight.

Federal Style, is an installation of forty-five small scale copper reliefs based on the topographical maps of existing American Indian reservations. By basing this work on an established social structure, Knight crosses the line between one value system and another, utilizing existing systems of visual communication not generally connected with art.

"John Knight belongs to the recent generation of artists who in radical manner have questioned previous approaches to making art. His ideas are comparable with those of artists such as Michael Asher, Daniel Buren, Dan Graham and Lawrence Weiner whose work derives its content from its context. Like these artists, he has abandoned traditional modes of painting and sculpture and further expanded their boundaries."

John Knight has exhibited extensively in the United States and Europe. His work has been shown at Documenta 7, Kassel, West Germany, the 74th American Exhibition at the Art Institute of Chicago and at the Renaissance Society at the University of Chicago. Major solo exhibitions of his work have been held recently at the Gallery Shimada, Japan, Galerie Roger Pailhas, Marseilles, Marian Goodman Gallery, New York and the Hoshour Gallery, Albuquerque. Recent group shows include "Intention and Rational Form" at Fabriek van Dooren, Mol, Belgium and "Non in Codice" held at the Gallery Pierone in Rome.

Please join us for a reception for the artist on Saturday, September 9, from 3 - 5pm.

Gallery Hours are Tuesday - Saturday, 11:00-5:30pm.
